

ANIMAL SELF-HEALING

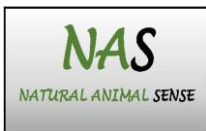

DOMESTIC LEVEL

NATURAL ANIMAL SENSE

Navigation House. 16 Ellerbeck Way. Stokesley. TS9 5JZ.

Animal Self-Healing (domestic level).

Our aim

We want you to be able to practice the amazing subject of animal self-healing competently and confidently with your pets. Discover the many ways Zoopharmacognosy can benefit animals.

Course objective

This course will give you an awareness and understanding of what Animal Self-Healing (zoopharmacognosy) is. It will empower you so you become competent and confident to practice this method of healthy living with the animals that share your lives.

This course will give you an understanding into what an animal is asking for and more importantly, teach you how to help once you know what they are asking for.

The domestic level Animal Self-Healing course is for personal use only. The principle idea of the course is to make the gift of self-medication for animals available in as many households as possible.

Why should I attend this course?

The difference between attending a one/two-day workshop and attending this course is huge. This course not only teaches you about the different remedies used and the reasons why animals accept them in different forms and methods. It also teaches you how to offer remedies, how to watch, observe and read the body language. It gives you the foundation to create a fuller relationship with your pet where communication becomes an everyday experience. All the case studies are undertaken with your pets. We aim to get every student to have a pet attend a case study where possible (an animal will only participate in a case study if the owner is fully consenting).

If you are a professional already working in the animal care industry or are wishing to become an animal therapist, counsellor or trainer, this course is the perfect gateway into our full practitioner diploma course in zoopharmacognosy.

Course content

- Health and safety when practicing (getting the maximum benefit from your sessions)
- Storing your kit (do's and don'ts)
- Know your remedies (the knowledge)
- Scientific data (what's happening inside)
- How to offer for acceptance (the four ways to work)
- Body language (the power of observation)
- General groupings (how to support effectively)
- Case studies* (practical experience alongside qualified practitioners)

Course breakdown

Block one (two days)

- Health and Safety when practicing
- storing/maintenance of your kit
- Know your remedies

Block two (two days)

- Finding out how and why it works
- How to offer
- Case studies (focusing on offering)

Block three (two days)

- Body language
- Case studies (focusing on body language)

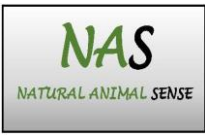

Block four (two days)

- General groupings
- Case studies (focusing on groupings)

Course duration/location

The course above is made up with 4 blocks and each block has a 2-day duration. The course is held within the premises of Natural Animal Sense (* see notes below).

Navigation House. 16 Ellerbeck Way, Stokesley Business Park, Stokesley. TS9 5JZ.

Course dates

See website for dates relevant to your specific group.

Course cost

Animal Self-Healing (domestic level) £395. We require a 25% deposit to reserve your seat and final payment no later than 1 month before course commencement date.

Payment plans can be arranged at request.

Every student will be supplied with -

- A remedies reference book "The Knowledge"
- A starter pack
- A file
- Course information sheets
- A certificate of attendance after completion.

Bespoke starter kits c/w carry case designed for your specific needs are available on request and will be priced relevant to the species they are supporting.

* Sometimes case studies need to be arranged off premises